I am online and should be quite long. I can summarize very short for your convenience and Shydow also looked on the case so can confirm my words:

1. I have an anxiety in dark small rooms especially underground. I do not go even to underground parkings. It kicks in Wurm mines, but if I mine close to open entrance it is bearable.

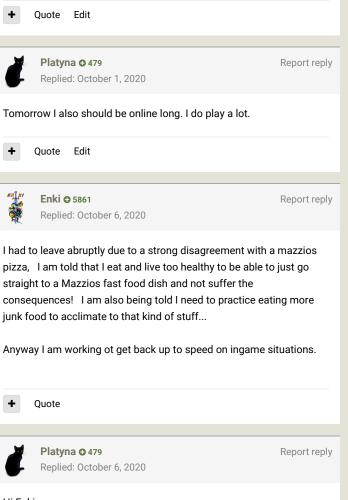

2. I wished for gold mine door, I like nice decorations. But gold was nowhere to be found in acceptable location.

3. Found a nice off deed open mine with vein right at the entrance and mined it, I stored what I mined and smelted in two BSBs - HQL and LQL, they were locked, mining took me around 4 days.

4. Told a person I considered one of my best friends in game that I found a gold vein and if he can come see how many operations are left. He came and said it is his mine and his veins, build a mine doors and then deeded. He knew that if he close the mine I will freak out and will be forced to leave due to anxiety.

5. Both BSBs remained on the deed and the mayor will not push them out, so I can remove them.

6. A GM I called said he is not going help me retrieve my items, and I have to deal with the fact they are lost. He included a smiley face so clearly was amused by my sad situation. So according this rationale if you dislike someone you can deed over his items and take them even if they are clearly owned.

Hi Enki,

I am very sorry with your disagreement with a pizzeria, some people fail to understand that they are responsible for your health. And as a biologist fighting pseudoscience, I can tell you there is no such thing as "junk food", some foods are simply very caloric and shouldn't be eaten in large quantities every day, but a good pizza eaten once a while will do you no harm (unless you have some underlying illness such as diabetes).

BSB thief, after 5 days came to his senses and pushed my property off his newly created deed, but if you could please tend to my forum warning issue, I would be really, really grateful.
